

Explore your leadership style

LEAD Europe training taster event
in partnership with
Business Psychology Centre, University of Westminster

In a post-Copenhagen world, acts of individual leadership are needed more than ever.

"If you want to be a leader, you have to be a real human being...You must understand yourself first."

Confucian Theory

TIME: 6:30-8:30PM DATE: 04 MARCH 2010

Location: Fyvie Hall, University of Westminster
309 Regents Street, London W1B 2UW
(nearest tube station : Oxford Circus)

Who is the event for?

Anyone who is interested in innovative approaches to leadership and sustainability and who would like to know their personal leadership preferences. This event is free and open to all. However booking is essential.

Event style: Informal participative exercise, discussion and networking. Light refreshments provided.

Chair: Ayleen Wisudha
Facilitator: Edward Kellow

For more information about the LEAD Europe training programme:
www.lead-europe.org

For more information about the Business Psychology Centre:
www.businesspsychologycentre.co.uk

Sign Up Now

Please register your full name and your organisation/establishment.

Location Details

University of Westminster
309 Regent Street
W1B 2UW London
www.westminster.ac.uk/about/how-to-find-us/regent-street2

To remove your name from our mailing list, please email us.

Questions or comments? E-mail us at europe@lead.org

